The Power of Heat: COGEN Europe Annual Conference

22-23 March 2016, Brussels

As the European Commission prepares to deploy its first Heating and Cooling Strategy it also finds itself grappling with a range of pressing questions on jobs and the economy, climate, energy security and resource management. The COGEN Europe Annual Conference 2016 again assembles the main players in the cogenerations sector to discuss and debate the major legislative questions of the moment and to present the sectors contribution to moving Europe forward.

Conference sessions are dedicated to:

- Delivering change: CHP's contribution to achieving EU energy policy objectives for 2030;
- Regulatory framework : The evolving regulatory framework of network codes, Emissions Trading, electricity market design;
- National market updates: Annual snap shot survey on the business climate for cogeneration in Europe plus an update on the Italian market;
- Case Studies: Large-scale CHP, District Heating, Micro-CHP showing the wealth of economic activity supported by cogeneration;
- Circular Economy: how will waste to energy impact the role of cogeneration in Europe.

COGEN Europe's Annual Conference brings together leading EU policymakers, industry representatives and influential thinkers to discuss the challenges facing the energy sector and its contribution to achieving the EU's climate and energy goals. By attending, you contribute to our knowledge of how best to integrate cogeneration into the energy network of tomorrow, help us to identify the challenges, and hear first-hand how EU policy can help the cogeneration sector to seize new growth opportunities.

Join us for two days of stimulating debate on the future of cogeneration in Europe!
